

ACADEMIC CALENDAR

The academic year is divided into two semesters: winter and spring.

Courses of the winter term normally start during the second half of September ending in mid December; those of the spring term start during the second half of February and finish by 31/May.

Exams of the winter term are in January and in early February, while those of the spring term take place between 01/June and 25/July.

Each Department publishes its own calendar at the beginning of the academic year.
